Darryl Foster

Development Executive

Overview & Experience

With a decade of experience in film and television, Darryl has excelled in creative roles at Fremantle and Red Production Company. Specialising in developing factual and factual entertainment formats, drama, and documentary, he's navigated roles as a Development Executive in both Factual and Drama and as the Bertelsmann Creative Development Lead, fostering cross-company IP partnerships. Darryl's track record includes creating captivating stories for screen and audio, such as the award-winning podcast "This Is Spoke", "The Woman's Prize for Fiction Podcast", and the documentary series "Artistry of Africa, commissioned by Canal+ Afrique." In 2023, he pursued personal goals in acting, writing, and directing, earning recognition for his award-winning BFI Network-funded short film "Hard To Reach" and securing a significant role in an upcoming Netflix series. In this career break, Darryl also began mentoring for Film London Connect, hosted a documentary in Kenya, and established himself as a freelance Visual Pitch Designer.
